

May the Lord bless you and keep you from all harm,
May your heart draw closer to Him.
May you grow in your desire to meet with Him in times of study and in prayer,
May the Lord break down any idols and guard your heart from worshipping the created instead of the Creator.

I pray for God to continue to purify your heart, that it would not be divided in its passions but that it would be unified in its pursuit of the things of the Holy Spirit, I pray for God to clarify the call or purpose He has for you at the exact coordinates where He has placed you.
I pray for you to have strength to be obedient to his leading, and that you would trust and believe that He really is working all things together for your good.
I pray for you to have patience as you wait for Him and grace towards yourself as you do so.

And I am asking God to fill you with His peace, that His forgiveness would cancel your shame.
And I am asking God to give you His perspective, so you can cease obsessing, assuming, and see yourself and your circumstances clearly.
And I am asking God to fill you with His joy, for the things of this world can never truly satisfy the longings of our heart.
And I am asking God to give you His discernment, for there are many voices vying for our attention, but His voice is often heard in the form of a whisper.

Give us your rest, Lord, this day I pray, for we are weary. You have given us a call and placed us at very specific coordinates for your Kingdom Purposes. Lead us, love us, and give us our daily bread and what you deem to be best for us until the day you call us home into your eternal presence.

Your Kingdom come and your will be done...

In Jesus' name I pray,
Amen.
